Sharing the Journey
TO A STRONGER COMMUNITY
VALLEY COMMUNITY FOUNDATION 2017 ANNUAL REPORT
Dear Friends,

Anyone who has traveled through the Valley can tell you there are many landmarks to visit and sign posts to guide you along your way. Fixed between two rivers, the Valley offers numerous trails to explore while taking in all the beautiful scenery in our region. Experiences such as these can have an effect on our perspective that can last a lifetime.

Like any good hike, the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) has selected a destination with a clear direction, and is making purposeful strides towards a stronger community. As we chart our course, we are fortunate to be joined by fundholders, nonprofits, The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven, and community members, just like you, who support our mission.

Since 2016, our biggest trail marker has been the Valley Community Index, which has helped to guide us along our path. This information has helped inform us about where we were, where we are now, and where we are headed.

Last year, VCF helped create and support the Valley Interfaith Council. This Council is steadily growing and is already approaching 20 members of the region’s faith-based community.

Also in 2017, VCF, in collaboration with local nonprofits, launched the Valley Gives Back™, a community-wide planned giving initiative that encourages people to remember their favorite Valley charities in their estate plan. It has never been easier to discover how your charitable goals can align with your financial plan. By planning now and giving later, you can impact the Valley tomorrow and for generations to come!
A Year in Review

With governmental budgets in flux and a growing need for services, there has never been a more important time for VCF to support organizations committed to this region. During these times, when it is becoming increasingly dependent on citizenry to build, protect, and enhance the vibrancy of the community, we are confident that our strategic grantmaking will help provide a reliable source of funding during a time of financial uncertainty.

To date, nearly 180 funds have been established at VCF with total assets now over $25 million! Your contribution ensures that each step towards a stronger community is both meaningful and impactful. With this support, we are working with our regional partners for the long-term good of the Valley.

Much like a hike, our work going forward requires putting one foot in front of the other over a period of time. If we allow ourselves the opportunity to be present throughout the entire trek, as a community, we can experience something beautiful in every step along the way, not just the view from the top.

We invite you to join us in sharing the journey to a stronger community.

Valley Interfaith Council

Faith has the power to unite people of all backgrounds and communities in working together in service above self. At a time when municipalities, congregations, and nonprofits are struggling more than ever before to meet the needs of their constituents, bringing people together and sharing knowledge of key issues has never been so important.

The Valley Interfaith Council (VIFC) was formed in January 2017 and is comprised of faith-based leaders throughout Ansonia, Beacon Falls, Derby, Naugatuck, Oxford, Seymour, and Shelton. VIFC members convene bimonthly to explore opportunities for collaboration and receive information on matters facing our Valley residents through a speaker series. Topics to date have ranged from food insecurity to elder care, to the opioid crisis.

While it is often said that no man is an island, so, too, does this apply to a congregation or house of worship. While one faith-based group may see more families without basic needs such as food or shelter, another could see requests for services and resources among the growing aging population. This can even occur from neighborhood-to-neighborhood in any given town or city.

VIFC provides a platform for faith-based leaders to break down silos and become more informed about these changing needs and opportunities. Most importantly, members of the Council hope to increase their awareness and understanding of important issue areas to be a stronger resource for their congregations and the communities they serve.

For example, the data released in the 2016 Valley Community Index shows that our region is changing and becoming increasingly diverse. Additionally, by the year 2025, the population of Valley residents ages 65 and older is projected to be 23%, with 9 out of 10 seniors wanting to age in place. These two facts alone will change the scope of services needed from the Valley community in a relatively short period of time.

The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) and the Valley United Way (VUW) are working together to support this initiative and have hired a facilitator to support VIFC with planning and administration. VCF has provided financial support for the work, while VUW serves as the fiscal agent and makes office space available.

Learning to respect others of differing faiths and beliefs can help to break down barriers in the short term and strengthen lasting relationships throughout the Valley region. VIFC welcomes new members and looks forward to working inclusively with members of all faiths in the years ahead. To learn more about the Valley Interfaith Council or how your congregation can get involved, please call 203-926-9478.
For many, the Valley has been home for generations and, even if unrelated, Valley residents consider one another as family. Fixed between three of the state’s major cities, each with unique needs, the Valley has learned to take care of its own by ensuring local programs and services are available, accessible, and impactful.

Throughout the years, much of the funding for these programs was made available by federal and state grants, as well as from private donations from individuals and foundations. However, cuts in both federal and state budgets leave these critical programs vulnerable at times when they are most needed. As a result, community members in need are becoming increasingly more dependent on others who share their time, talent, and treasure through our nonprofits.

A 2014 Boston College Center on Wealth and Philanthropy Report estimated that nearly $60 trillion will be transferred to younger generations in the United States over the next 40 years. During the next half-century, planned giving will have a critical role in the nonprofit sector, from the smallest local charity to the largest worldwide nonprofits, representing a fundamental shift in the field of philanthropy.

While national and international causes are sending a range of appeals to donors, and universities inundate their alumni with pleas for support, local nonprofits, especially small organizations, find it challenging to compete with these larger and more concentrated development campaigns. That is why the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) launched the Valley Gives Back™ - a community-wide planned giving initiative that strives to build philanthropy across the Valley in collaboration with local nonprofits.

VCF is working with local nonprofits and professional advisors to help educate and build awareness of planned giving vehicles. Through the use of targeted marketing materials, workshops, billboards, advertisements, direct mail, and a new single-source website, VCF is demystifying how planned giving works, showing how easy it can be to make an impact without changing one’s current lifestyle. The Valley Gives Back™ is also a way local nonprofits can work to build their long-term sustainability through planned gifts while they address immediate needs in the community.

As VCF helps to build the resource development capacity of the Valley’s nonprofits, we will continue to be available as a trusted partner for professional advisors, nonprofits, and members of the community. Although donors do not have to work through VCF to establish a planned gift, VCF is certainly an option in achieving one’s philanthropic goal.

The Gates Society

An ordinary signature can make an extraordinary difference.

The Gates Society reflects a close circle of friends who share a special love and appreciation for this region, and who have named the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) in their estate plans.

Today, people tend to make charitable gifts from their income and hold onto their assets for the unpredictable needs they may have in their golden years. This is where planned giving comes in. You can make a plan to give to a fund, or establish a fund, when you no longer need those assets. Just like someone will plan to give something to family and friends when they pass, they can also make a gift to the Valley through VCF.

The Society is named in honor of Ross and Frank Gates, the brothers of a prominent Derby family. In 1938, the brothers created trusts in the family name at The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to support broad charitable purposes with consideration that the income benefit residents of Derby and vicinity. Today, this fund continues to support the Valley with more than $1.1 million annually.

Joining VCF’s planned giving community is simple. Let us know you have named VCF or one of our funds in your estate plan so we can personally thank you during your lifetime. Here’s how:

- Name VCF in your will or trust for a specific percentage or amount, as a residual gift, or contingent gift.
  OR
- Designate VCF as the beneficiary to an insurance policy, individual retirement account (IRA), 401k, or checking/savings account.
  OR
- For another stream of income, create a Charitable Gift Annuity and benefit from an immediate tax break and guaranteed income for life. Upon your passing, VCF receives the remaining balance and fulfills your philanthropic wishes.
  OR
- Leverage the power of charitable remainder trusts or charitable lead trusts to perpetuate your values and your wealth for both your heirs and your charitable intentions.

The Great Give® 2017

The Great Give® is an annual 36-hour online giving event created in 2010 by The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to increase philanthropy in its 20-town region, which has tremendous participation in the Valley.

Nearly $1.3 million was raised in The Great Give® 2017, which included donations from individuals, prize money from corporations, as well as matching prize money from TCF and the Valley Community Foundation (VCF). For the fifth consecutive year, VCF has been the second largest sponsor of the event, incentivizing giving by matching funds and offering prizes to participating organizations.

Gifts made by Valley residents, employees, and donor advised fund holders during The Great Give® 2017 totaled nearly $300,000 for nonprofit organizations located in Ansonia, Derby, Oxford, Seymour, and Shelton. Overall, there were more than 8,000 donors who gave more than 11,000 gifts. To view participating nonprofits and prize information, visit www.thegreatgive.org.

$300,000 raised for Valley organizations
The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) is here to help you make a difference in the community and support the causes you care about. Every grant VCF makes comes from a gift made by someone like you.

When you establish a charitable fund with us, you choose the name and purpose. Our commitment is to ensure your wishes are carried out. We offer various types of funds to reflect your specific philanthropic goals and ambitions.

In 2017, seven funds joined VCF. Each was established for a different reason and will help address a unique cause. We are proud to share their stories with you in this annual report. Please contact us if you would like to learn more about establishing a fund. Together, we can find a solution that best fits your philanthropic plan and perpetuates your values.

Marc J. Garofalo Cultural Experience Fund

When you fill your life with experiences instead of things, you gain stories to tell rather than possessions to show. This is why Marc Garofalo established the Marc J. Garofalo Cultural Experience Fund at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF).

“Many funds at VCF support worthwhile organizations or make scholarship funding available for students,” Marc said. “I wanted to do something a little different and give youth in the Valley the opportunity to have cultural experiences they would otherwise not be able to afford.”

Thirty years ago, Marc traveled to Italy for the first time with his family to see relatives he had never met. The opportunity to visit a foreign country and immerse himself in the culture was life changing. Since that first trip, Marc also helped establish the Derby Sister City Fund at VCF which supports exchange visits between Derby and its Sister City, Puglianello, Italy.

Well over 100 friends and family members joined Marc in making a donation to this Fund in celebration of his 50th birthday, which featured a fun evening of performances and storytelling.

DONOR ADVISED FUNDS

The easiest way to support the nonprofits and issues you personally care about in the Valley and beyond is through a Donor Advised Fund. Offering maximum flexibility, you recommend grants from the fund to any qualified public charity in the U.S. You can add to and recommend grants from your Fund at any time.
Valley Community Foundation Funds

“I never knew how much impact one trip earlier in my life could have on me all through adulthood,” Marc said. “It just goes to show how powerful a cultural experience can be and how it can change the way someone views the world.”

Marc hopes to work with Valley schools and youth organizations to evaluate opportunities that this fund can support.

“This is a great way to enrich the Valley and keep money local while we try to broaden the horizons and create life-changing experiences for the youth in our community,” Marc added.

Nina Poeta Scholarship Award Fund

Nina Teresa Poeta loved life. She embraced everything it had to offer—family, friends, and faith—and would joyfully share that love with everyone she met. Nina’s boundless enthusiasm, infectious smile, and contagious laughter warmed the hearts of so many throughout the years. After being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor and subsequently passing away at the age of 17 in 2014, the Valley became “Nina Strong.” The outpouring of support her mother Dorie, father John, and sister Cara Poeta received from Valley residents and beyond led them to create the Nina Poeta Scholarship Award Fund.

“People have been incredibly generous,” said Dorie. “We received so many contributions from people here in the Valley, the State, and all throughout the world who have honored her memory and celebrated her life. We created this scholarship to ensure Nina’s legacy would live on in perpetuity.”

This year, the Poetas decided to transfer the Scholarship Fund to the Valley Community Foundation (VCF). “We chose to work with VCF because we were born and raised in the Valley, and recognize the impact the Foundation has had on this community,” John continued. “It was a natural fit.”

Through this scholarship Fund, the Poetas are seeking to reward and hopefully inspire youth to participate in charitable community service just as Nina had done. “It’s not about someone with the best grades or the most awards,” said Dorie. “It is more about the person who has gone that extra mile to help those who are disenfranchised, who may be physically or mentally challenged and are in need of a kind word or special support. Those are the qualities that Nina exhibited each and every day.”

The Poetas plan to have the Fund become a designated Fund over time, supporting the Lower Naugatuck Valley Boys and Girls Club, Seymour High School, and the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Committee.

“Nina brought out the best in all of us,” said Dorie. “She was that bright beacon of hope and courage that everyone could relate to. She never gave up, and was always smiling and cheering us on. We hope this Fund will leave a ‘trail of glitter’ for other young people to follow Nina’s path of service and light, now and for years to come.”

Leah Rondon Fund

Losing a loved one is never easy, especially when that loved one is a young child. After a tragic accident took the life of six-year old Leah Rondon, her parents, Henry and Colleen, received a tremendous amount of love and support from the community. The Rondons soon began to explore ways to ensure Leah’s legacy and the memory of her vivacious personality could be shared with others.

“She was a tiny little thing but she was never shy and always made friends wherever she went,” said Colleen. “She loved the arts, sports, school, and was extremely kind-hearted.”

Since Leah’s sudden passing in 2015, the family has organized an annual Dragonfly Dash 5k in Ansonia and has been amazed by the level of participation. After raising several thousand dollars to support Ansonia’s youth, a family friend who was familiar with the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) spoke to Henry and Colleen about establishing a fund in Leah’s memory at the Foundation.

“My friend first spoke on our behalf with the staff at VCF. After a few meetings with VCF President and CEO Sharon Closius, we decided to set up a donor advised fund,” Colleen said. “It gave us the flexibility to recommend distributions without having to set up a nonprofit of our own. For us, we particularly liked how the money stays right here and, after all, nobody knows the Valley like the Valley.”

While the Rondons say they could never repay friends, family, and Valley residents for their overwhelming generosity and support, they now have an opportunity to give back to the community in their daughter’s memory.

“We are hopeful that we can work with the schools and teachers in Ansonia each year to determine enrichment experiences we can help provide that the students otherwise wouldn’t be able to receive,” Colleen said. “It’s a great way of honoring our special little girl.”

The Smythe Family Fund

Brad and Marianne Smythe have called Shelton home for 35 of their 46 years of marriage, raised two daughters, and are now enjoying spending time with their grandchildren, who also live in Shelton.

“We have always believed in giving as our faith teaches: feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, clothe the naked, and so on,” said Brad, an ordained deacon assigned to St. Joseph Parish in Shelton. Brad often sees the needs of those in the Valley community who are ill, lonely, or who lack basic necessities such as food and shelter.

Brad and Marianne have a long history of giving to specific charities, but it was when Marianne was asked to become a member of the Valley Community Foundation’s (VCF’s) Board Advisory Council and then eventually serve on the Board of Directors that she discovered a new way to give. As the Smythes learned about all the funds that were established by local families, they said to themselves, “We could do that!”

“VCF President and CEO Sharon Closius listened carefully to our vision and helped us select a fund type that made the most sense for our goals,” said Marianne. As a financial advisor, Marianne knew that she and Brad could give appreciated stock to start their fund and grow it over time. They also joined the Gates Society, VCF’s planned giving community, by naming their family fund as one of the beneficiaries for a percentage of their retirement accounts along with their daughters.

Brad and Marianne said, “While we will continue to give directly to our church and the charities that are important to us, we appreciate that we can make grant recommendations from our fund each year and trust that our wishes will be carried out long after we are gone.”

Henry Shelton Wells and Edith Birdseye Wells Family Fund

There have been Wells family members living in the region since colonial times. Mention the name Wells throughout the Valley, and thoughts may turn to Wells Hollow. Others perhaps may remember the Creamery and tree farm that still exists on the site of the historic Wells Hollow Farm. The Farm, located on Bridgeport Avenue in Shelton, was formerly run by the late Robert L. Wells, and is now operated by Nathaniel Shelton Wells. Henry Shelton Wells and his wife Edith Birdseye Wells dedicated their lives to working on and preserving that Farm during their lifetime. To honor their parents’ deep commitment to the land and to the Valley, family members have come together to create the Henry Shelton Wells and Edith Birdseye Wells Fund, a Designated Fund at the Valley Community Foundation. “Thanks to the tenacity, dedication, and foresight of our parents, the Farm has remained in our family for generations,” said son Thomas H. Wells. “Mom and Dad had many opportunities to sell, especially when times were tough and farms were cheap,” added his brother Royal. “Back in the thirties and forties when they were struggling to make ends meet and raise the six of us, it wasn’t easy. But they hung in there, and as a result, the farm became their legacy for us. We want to honor our parents for all that they have done by giving back to the community that they loved so dearly.”

The brothers and their sister Lovisa Wells Hill have fond memories of growing up on the Farm, and living in the Valley. “We all had chores—everyone was expected to milk the cows, help sell eggs, and do housework,” said Royal. “We all pitched in—it was just how life was in a big family.” “We didn’t have much, but we had each other and that was, and still is, everything,” said Tom. “My mother had the best parties all throughout the year—Memorial Day, the Fourth of July, and of course Thanksgiving and Christmas.” Lovisa agreed. “Celebrations were such a special time for us on the farm. I was fortunate to have my wedding reception there, and I now proudly carry on my mother’s tradition of hosting Thanksgiving there each year,” she said.

The Wells Family plans to grow their parents’ fund so that annual distributions can be made to support cultural, historical, and pressing needs in the Valley. “Our parents were always there for us throughout our lives,” said Tom. “Mom and Dad attended our graduations, and every special event that each of us went through. This is our way of honoring that commitment to us by giving back to Valley nonprofits that are working so hard to make this community a better place for generations to come.”

ORGANIZATION AND FIDUCIARY FUNDS

Nonprofit organizations can set up either a permanent Organization Endowment Fund, which is a component fund of the Foundation, or an Organization Fund, which is for investment only. Both funds provide a stable source of distributable revenue for the nonprofit. On occasion, there are charitable projects that are not attached to a specific nonprofit organization and a “fiduciary” entity, typically a nonprofit, is named to accept the charitable donations and oversee the disbursements in order to fulfill the project.

Massaro Community Farm Fund

Someone is enjoying a harvest today because of the seeds that were planted seasons ago. Just like thoughtful planning is needed to grow crops, so, too, is it required to grow an organization’s reserve fund.

Massaro Community Farm has a mission to keep farming, feed people, and build community for generations to come. These core principles shape the farm’s operations, workshops, events, and educational programming that take place on its 57 acres to promote the importance of connecting to locally-sourced food.

Located on the Ansonia-Woodbridge town line, the farm supports both Greater New Haven and Valley communities with a vegetable subscription program, on-farm and in-school education, and thousands of pounds of produce, which is given to hunger relief each year.

“We are transitioning from a start-up to a mature entity,” said Executive Director Caty Poole “Establishing a reserve fund at the Valley Community Foundation (VCF) represents the first phase to secure our stake in the community we serve. By no means extravagant, it was the next logical step to grow our future, and signal to the region our intent to continue the tradition of small, diversified farming.”

The Massaro Community Farm board of directors and staff believe in slow and thoughtful growth. As part of its ongoing planning and management, the farm felt it had reached a point that it was able to allocate monies to start the Fund as a step towards building a reserve, with the eventual goal of creating an endowment. With much of the farm’s outreach efforts taking place in neighboring Valley towns, it made sense to place the farm’s investment with VCF.

“For us, a sustainable reserve fund strengthens our organization and will be a great resource for our dedicated supporters,” Caty added. “Having a reserve fund at VCF allows money to be invested while we continue our efforts to build support for a farm in our community.”

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS
You can help students pursue their educational dreams with a Scholarship Fund. Scholarship Funds are often created in memory of someone and can be used to support educational opportunities, a specific educational institution, or a course of study.

Louis Nicoletti, Sr. Business Scholarship Fund

Few things were more important to Louis Nicoletti Sr. than family, the Valley community, and the value of second-to-none customer service. A lifelong Ansonia resident, Louis began working at his father’s store when he was in his mid-teens. He and his brother, William Jr., took over the family business, General Muffler & Auto Supply in Ansonia, nearly half a century ago, which their father originally started in 1945. Over time, Louis quickly built a reputation for his selfless attitude and willingness to get his hands dirty.

“We received so much support from countless people after Louis passed in March of 2017,” said wife, Elizabeth Nicoletti. “His long-time customers shared fond memories. His employees and so many people in the community told wonderful stories about Louis. Everyone loved him.”

The Nicoletti family began talking about what they could do to honor Louis’ memory and keep his legacy alive. He had such an impact on so many people in the Valley.

Louis was involved in a range of business ventures during his lifetime, which included United Avionics, Nicoletti’s Brass Button, and Import Auto Center. To honor his passion for business, Elizabeth wanted a fund that acknowledged Louis’ entrepreneurial spirit. She also wanted to help graduating students with the high cost of education. The family decided to put their plan into action and created a scholarship fund in Louis’ name for Ansonia High School students who will pursue business and entrepreneurial studies in college.

“This was a great way to pass on Louis’ high regard for education and the Valley,” Elizabeth said. “We hope this Fund can create an impact for students from Ansonia as they venture off to pursue what Louis was so passionate about his whole life.”

“His long-time customers shared fond memories. His employees and so many people in the community told wonderful stories about Louis. Everyone loved him.”

Community Investments

Our mission is to make the Valley a better place to live and work, both now and in the future, by connecting private philanthropy to the long-term public good of the Valley.

Discretionary Grants by Program Area Paid in 2017

Note: This data reflects grants made through the Responsive, Needs and Opportunities, and Community Grants processes, and includes previous multiyear grant support. These grant programs would not be possible without the significant financial and staffing contributions provided by our partner in philanthropy, The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven.

Responsive Grant Program
VCF’s annual Responsive Grants program is open to requests for organizational support and projects that serve Ansonia, Derby, Oxford, Seymour and/or Shelton. These grants are awarded to address a nonprofit’s operating, programmatic, or capacity building needs.

Stewardship of Charitable Assets

Stewardship of the Valley’s assets generated positive net investment returns in excess of the market benchmarks designed to assess its performance.

The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) and The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) have been affiliated for the past 14 years, and the assets entrusted to VCF since 2004 have been managed through TCF. Access to TCF’s commingled investment management program through TCF’s Corporation, which has been a Connecticut registered investment adviser since 2014, affords VCF the benefits of a diverse, long-term and global endowment model provides for exposure to over 40 world-class sub-advisors across 10 asset classes.

VCF is pleased to report a return of 18.6%, net of the expense of managing the Commingled Fund, against the market benchmark of 15.5% for the year ended December 31, 2017. Equally important is that, since VCF’s inception 14 years ago, the endowment has experienced an annualized return of 8.9%, net of expenses, versus the market benchmark of 7.3% while managed under the Commingled Fund.

1. The market benchmark is equal to the rate of return produced by specific market indices representing the asset classes contained in the asset allocation model, with such market indices weighted in accordance with that model. Past performance is no indication of future results.

“Now that my term on the VCF Board of Directors has concluded at the end of 2017, I am pleased to introduce and welcome Raymond Oppel, CPA as the new Treasurer and Finance Committee Chair. It is with great confidence that I pass the torch to such a well-qualified individual with a long history of taking on so many community endeavors in the Valley. Ray will begin serving in this capacity in January 2018.”

Partners in Philanthropy

The Valley Community Foundation (VCF) partners with The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven (TCF) to carry out its mission in Ansonia, Derby, Oxford, Seymour and Shelton. This relationship provides VCF with access to the strength of TCF, which was established in 1928 and is one of the oldest and largest community foundations in the United States and remains the largest grantmaker to nonprofits serving a twenty-town region in the heart of central Connecticut. VCF shares a CFO and uses TCF’s investment expertise, programming and development knowledge. This strong relationship provides VCF with an immediate support structure that allows its Board of Directors to focus on leadership and development.

VCF wishes to thank The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven staff and all the volunteers for their time, contributions and expertise.
Your Impact, Made Easy - Establishing a Fund at VCF

Our mission is to connect private philanthropy to the long-term public good of the Valley. Fulfilling your charitable wishes is central to our mission.

We will help you tailor your giving to fit your charitable goals and your personal situation. You may choose to give now or give later. Either way, we will ensure that your legacy and interests will be honored today, tomorrow and forever. Our staff and board have deep local knowledge that helps determine the areas of greatest need and where our grants can be most effective.

Your gift benefits from being part of a larger whole. Our funds are managed as part of The Community Foundation for Greater New Haven’s (TCF) diversified investment portfolio. Over time, as the endowment grows, so do our funds and your ability to award grants. By investing your charitable gift with us, you are increasing the long-term impact of your gift.

The Valley Community Foundation offers several types of funds as referenced throughout this report. You can support an existing fund or establish a new fund with the use of cash, appreciated securities, IRA distributions and much more. You can help your community for generations to come by creating a permanent endowed fund.

STEP 1
Tell us how you would like your fund to be used. Would you like your gift to be flexible so that it can address any community problem or opportunity? Or, is there a specific charity or cause that you would like to support? Would you like to be involved in the grantmaking?

STEP 2
Tell us what you would like to name your fund. This will be your legacy: One hundred years from now, your fund will still be making grants. Or, you may set up the fund anonymously if you prefer.

STEP 3
Contact the office by calling (203) 751-9162 or visit us at 253-A Elizabeth Street, Derby, CT, and we will prepare the fund agreement that fits your philanthropic goals. All donations to the Valley Community Foundation are tax-deductible.
